

ATS STEM

Coronavirus and social media - problems? (8-1)

Joel Golby writes in his Guardian article that "Coronavirus has infected our culture and the way we discuss things," and by this he means social media, too. Can you see any symptoms of this "infection"?

What are the potential problems that the coronavirus poses in combination with social media? What trouble can you see in the combination of the coronavirus and social media? Think about the activities we've done in the past week.

Write at least two problems in the spaces below - two are obligatory, but you can write up to five if you want.

Again, don't worry about grammar and if you really cannot put your thoughts into English, use Slovene. Thank you for your participation, I'm really proud of you and the work you've done for this project!

* Zahtevano

Problem no. 1

10 odgovorov

I was more on tik tok thati ussualy ambecause i have nothing to do.

There is a lot of fake news.

No

Coronavirus has infected our culture and the way we discuss things.

People post incorrect informations and other people think thats is real and they will maybe have to pay.

I think the problem could be that people would spend too much time on social media.

Some reporters can not go where they want to go.

People don't spend much time outside because they're on social media. They want to get new information about the coronavirus in every moment.

You can get addicted to social media.

Problem no. 2

10 odgovorov

Some people say something is true, while others deny it.

jih ni

What are the potential problems that the coronavirus poses in combination with social media.

Because of coronavirus people are too much on social media and its not healthy for them.

I think the problem could be addiction.

Where reporters go is more likely to be infected.

People are very afraid because of information they get on social media about the coronavirus.

You may get the wrong iformation.

Less human activity

Problem no. 3

6 odgovorov

ja

We must stay home so we can not hang out with friends.

Because corona virus fewer newspapers are sold.

People don't know who to believe because of different information of the coronavirus they get on social media.

You forget about your family and friends.

intrusion of knowledge by scholchildren

Problem no. 4

5 odgovorov

no

I miss my friends .

Companies get less money.

People spend too much time on social media and they become addicted.

Some people lose their jobs

Problem no. 5

3 odgovori

ja

Companies can go to bankrupt.

People are sad because they don't get likes on social media for their comments about the coronavirus.